

Leslie Walker

Writers of Promise Contest

WRITING ABOUT PLACE

Leslie Walker strived to create community in her classroom through writing about place. This ongoing effort was realized through her dedication to teaching writing to her students.

To continue Leslie's work, we invite teachers to prompt their students to experiment writing about a specific place. What they express in their writing may be factual, imagined, or a combination of both.

Teachers are invited to submit up to 20 of their students' most interesting pieces to our contest.

Help Leslie Walker's legacy live on by adding the KMWP Leslie Walker Writers of Promise Contest to your annual plans.
